Introduction

The books and material in this list are mainly related to the history of radio, its programming and personalities. It contains author, title, publisher, subject and copyright date. Eliminated for the most part are books of scripts and books on the technical aspect of radio. Most of the books are out of print. The information has come from my library, various bibliographies and from a list of the 1100 books in Dave Siegel's collection.

To find book dealers who might have them, you might try "The Used Book Lover's Guide," a series of books for different parts of the country. The books are written by Susan and David Siegel, Book Hunter Press, Box 193, Yorktown Heights, NY 10598. For information call (914) 245-6608. Susan and David were the subject of a lengthy article in the October 17, 1993 issue of the New York Times book section. Two book dealers mentioned are Treasure Hunters (Barbara Davies), Box 463, Mansfield Center, CT 06250 and Rainy Day Books (Frank Bequaert), Box 775, Fitzwilliam, NH 03447 <Rainyday@interloc.com>

Two book search web sites are <www.abebooks.com> and <www.bibliofind.com>. The biggest is <www.mxbookfinder.com>
